Syrah / Shiraz: the Coming Red Grape

It may seem eccentric to announce Syrah / Shiraz (exactly the same grape) as the coming grape, when it has been grown in the Rhône valley for centuries and was introduced into Australia by James Busby as early as 1832 – where it remains the most widely planted grape. But we term it as “coming” because so much more of it has been planted over the last twenty-five years: in the south of France, in Spain, in South Africa, and in Chile and Argentina. Interestingly there are two reasons for this. In the old world Syrah has been seen as a more prestigious grape than the Grenache, Carignan or Tempranillo which it displaced; whilst being better suited to Mediterranean climates than Bordeaux varieties. In the new world producers have watched with envy the success of brand Australia with Shiraz and want to emulate it.

Syrah / Shiraz comes in varying styles. The flavour of the wine is largely determined by the climate of the vineyard and methods of vinification. In the northern Rhône, at the northern limit of ripening the grape (hence the best sites being on well-exposed, south facing slopes in Côte Rôtie and Hermitage), the wines tend to be perfumed, elegant and lowish in alcohol - see Pichat's Syrah below for a perfect example. At the other end of the spectrum in, say, hotter sites in Australia, Shiraz can be dense, very ripe (almost sweet on the palate), robust and over 15%. Likewise a wine from stainless steel may be fresh and fruity; or Syrah can take oak ageing well. The classic wines of northern Rhône often mature in large old foudres and 600l. demi-muids, so oak influence is moderate; whereas in Australia the barrels may be made of American rather than French oak, lending more vanilla and sweet berry notes. A now dated trend is to copy the traditional practice in Côte Rôtie of co-fermenting Syrah with a little Viognier. The latest buzz in making Syrah is whole bunch fermentation (i.e. with the stems left on the bunches, which promotes aeration). The theory is that this old-fashioned technique, often traditionally used in the Rhône, delivers more freshness and texture and finer tannins.

There are however, some common characteristics in wines from Syrah, in particular: a deep colour (second only to Cabernet Sauvignon amongst widely grown grapes); medium to full body; black-fruit; and excellent ageing potential for better examples, with the wines becoming more savoury with time in bottle. Finally, the easiest way to guess the style of a new world wine is often the way the grape is named on the label: if Syrah the wine leans towards the restrained style of the northern Rhône, if Shiraz towards Aussie ripeness and power.

Gold medal in the 2017 Decanter World Wine Awards, 95/100: "A refined nose of black fruits with roasted dark coffee and ripe blueberry overtones, while the palate is bold and fresh with warm berry crumble, plum and creamy tannins".

Strong youthful vivid purple. Scent of ripe cherries, currants and a violet note. Deliciously forward red fruits, refined and perfumed. The merest hint of pepper enlivens the finish. Now-2021

La Combe Saint Paul, L'Insoupçonné, Languedoc-La Clape, France, 2014, 14.5%

Bottle £19.95 Case with 10% off £215.46
Code CSP714

An example of how great Syrah can be when grown in a top site - on the limestone of La Clape near the Med. - in the Languedoc. From 85% Syrah with Mourvèdre, given 10 months ageing in a mix of new and 2nd fill barrels, this is a very limited production wine: we take 10%.

Very deeply hued and glossy. The perfume is inspiring – fresh crushed berries with a cassis note. Bittersweet blackcurranty flavours are tinged with hints of black chocolate and coffee. With great suavity and length, this brilliantly combines power and finesse, and shows how the best wines of the region can stand against any competition. Now-2024

Tomfoolery is the creation of two young guys, Tom Yaps and Ben Chipman. They source small parcels of fruit to make delicious, artisanal wines which combine high quality, old vine fruit with gentle, old world-style winemaking. The Young Blood Shiraz is fermented in open vats with 30% whole bunch; and then 50% goes into tank and 50% into old French barrels.

Lovely youthful clear ruby. This is deliciously vibrant and exciting. Bright raspberries and spiced cherries with just the right backing of tannin. Juicily stimulating, beautifully balanced and oh-so-drinkable. Now-2021

From 90% Syrah, based on one south facing plot, plus 10% Grenache, picked relatively early and then simply fermented in fibreglass tank, this is a great unoaked red. It's named after the Latin name for the Common Madder, a plant whose root supplied a red dye; and when one sees the amazingly deep colour one can see why.

Such a polished wine: dramatic, with that lifted floral perfume which derives from grapes grown on schist, and also smooth and velvety. Showing bittersweet blackcurrants, and hints of liquorice and umame savouriness - captivating. Now-2020+

Maritime Whites: Fresh and Breezy

As the weather warms up, we return to recommending fresher, lighter styles. Vineyards close to the sea benefit from climates influenced by cool oceans and, usually, refreshing winds.

There's a breeziness to these wines; and, at times, a hint of salinity which comes from tiny deposits of salt on the skins of the grapes.

Vila Nova, Vinho Verde, Portugal, 2016, 11.5% [Screwcap]

Bottle £8.50 Case with 10% off £91.80
Code VIL116

Vinho Verde is a definitive maritime wine, from vineyards in the north of Portugal facing the Atlantic. This blend of Loureiro, Avesso and Arinto was acclaimed by the Portuguese Vinho Verde organisation as the best Vinho Verde of last year.

Zingily fresh and citrusy, an old fashioned pleasure. Drink this year

Apaltagua, Riesling Reserva, Casablanca, Chile, 2016, 12% [Screwcap]

Bottle £8.95 Case with 10% off £96.66
Code APA716

Whilst the Casablanca Valley - which runs from the western slopes of the Andes to the cool Pacific - is better known for Sauvignon and Chardonnay, Riesling, first planted in the 1990s can also be successful.

A true dry and almost steely Riesling from cool Casablanca fruit at a fair price – grapefruit with a floral note. Now-2019

Chauvinière, Muscadet Sèvre et Maine sur lie, France, 2016, 12%

Bottle £9.50 Case with 10% off £102.60
Code HUC116

Muscadet, grown at the mouth of the Loire (where the climate isn't that dissimilar to Cornwall) is the traditional French accompaniment to Atlantic oysters and other seafood. Jean Huchet's example, from low yielding vines on classic granite soils, is a subtle pleasure.

Leaving the wine on the dead yeast cells (the lees) for a few months gives correct sur lie character – a texture and hint of spritz. Textbook zest and balance. Drink this year

Orchard Lane, Sauvignon Blanc, Marlborough, New Zealand, 2016, 12.5%

Bottle £9.95 Case with 10% off £107.46
Code ORC116

How can one make a selection of maritime wines without Marlborough Sauvignon? Although most of the vineyards are east facing, and therefore slightly protected from the wind, the proximity of the cool south Pacific at Cloudy Bay is vital to the success of the style.

Orchard Lane is the second label of young Kate Acland, who farms at Rapaura. This is a prettily labelled wine - the name suggests orchard fruits! Zippily fresh, with juicy gooseberries and a hint of orange. Drink this year

Creysseles, Languedoc, Picpoul de Pinet, France, 2017, 13.5%

Bottle £10.75 Case with 10% off £116.10
Code CRE117

We think of this as being the Muscadet of the south, albeit with more heft and herbal flavour. From the Picpoul grape, grown on calcareous soils within sight of the Bassin de Thau (and the local accompaniment to the seafood farmed there) on the Languedoc coast, it's always a fresh but generously weighted wine.

Julie Benau makes a top Picpoul. Citrus and herbal aromas, rounded texture and the expected stony finish. Now-2019

Aba de Trasmia, Albariño, Rías Baixas, Spain, 2016, 12.5%

Bottle £12.95 Case with 10% off £139.86
Code TRA116

Albariño is the best known grape and wine of Galicia in Spain's far north-west, and specifically of the Rías Baixas, the heavily indented coastline around Pontevedra. From a small co-operative, this is a fresh and balanced example.

A deliciously open palate of rosemary, apricot and lime. Lively, grassy and with a salty tang, this makes a superb match to any seafood, but an enticing aperitif too. Now-2018

Fryer's Cove, Sauvignon Blanc, Bamboes Bay, South Africa, 2016, 13.5% [Screwcap]

Bottle £13.50 Case with 10% off £145.80
Code FRY116

On the outskirts of Strandfontein, a peaceful village on the Atlantic coast 300 kilometres north of Cape Town, lies an isolated 6 hectare vineyard just 800 metres from the Atlantic Ocean. The micro-climate is extraordinary - very often the vines here are blanketed in a thick sea-fog, whilst only a few kilometers away inland the sun may be shining and the temperature torrid - and the subsoil is pure limestone, ideal for Sauvignon Blanc. This is one of South Africa's most interesting and characterful Sauvignons, made right on the dockside in Strandfontein, the only seawater-cooled winery we ship from. A very small amount of this wine is fermented in barrel.

This irony and mineral wine is a Cape Pouilly-Fumé. Smoky, gooseberry and peapod aromas; then an intense mouthful of gooseberry and passion-fruit, checked by crisp minerality. Some tasters claim to taste salt in this wine – which is entirely possible given the proximity to the sea, as the sea mist leaves fine salt flakes on the grapes. Now-2019

Errázuriz, Chardonnay, Aconcagua Costa, Chile, 2015, 13%

Bottle £14.95 Case with 10% off £161.46
Code: ERR115

Errázuriz invested hugely in planting 200 hectares of vines at Manzanar, just 12 kms from the chilly ocean. In addition the winemaking team, led by the brilliant Francisco Baettig, are picking earlier and reducing the proportion of new oak barrels for this wine – so it's just 13%, and a dead ringer for a wine from a lesser Côte de Beaune village.

Crisp green fruit, hint of chalky bite, nervy and mineral. This will keep well. Now-2022

Nitida, Coronata Integration, Durbanville, South Africa, 2014, 13.5% [Screwcap]

Bottle £14.95 Case with 10% off £161.46
Code NIT314

Nitida's vineyards are at Durbanville, just on the north side of Cape Town. With its southern latitude, the chilly Atlantic just 9 kms away and fresh south-east wind all summer, it's a coolish climate zone by Cape standards. This intense, Bordeaux style blend from Sémillon and Sauvignon Blanc won the top Platter 5 star award, described thus in the benchmark 2016 Platter's Guide: "Smooth, silky 14 combines barrel-fermented sémillon (60%) for creamy texture and baking spice with tank fermented sauvignon for fruit purity, this vintage less 'green' than 13 – more 'golden' (yellow apples and cling peaches), with tanga apricot finish".

It's hard to improve on the tasting note above! Showing ripe lime and more exotic fruit, with bite and structure, it can stand up to spicy food, chicken or fish. Now-2019

Some Sparkle for Easter

Easter is a time of celebration, the end of Lent and a mini-holiday to enjoy with family and friends. Fizz is definitely called for!

Floriano Cinti, Pignoletto Frizzante, Colli Bolognesi, Italy, NV, 13%

Bottle £11.95 Case with 10% off £129.06
Code CIN1NV

Pignoletto is the name of the delicious sparkling wine made in the foothills of the Apennines south and south-west of Bologna. From the Grechetto Gentile grape, with the fizz produced in the same way as Prosecco, i.e. in a closed tank, it's delightfully sparkly. For entertainment value, accompany the glass by singing loudly to the tune of O Sole Mio (the "Just one Cornetto" ditty)

"Here's Pignoletto, Give it to me,
Delicious sparkler, of Italy
Gently frizzante, it's made for fun
Buy Pignoletto at Stone, Vine & Sun!"

Pull the cork with a corkscrew and away you go... lightly fizzy, perfectly dry and citrusy, with fruity accents of pears and green apple. Creamy, rounded and with a crisp appley finish, this makes a perfect party fizz. Drink this year

Domaine J. Laurens, Blanquette de Limoux Brut, Le Moulin, France, NV, 12%

Bottle £12.95 Case with 10% off £139.86
Code LAU1NV

Elegantly made, using Champagne techniques, from 90% Mauzac, the traditional variety of Limoux, with 10% Chardonnay, grown in the foothills of the Pyrenees.

Pale lemon with a fine mousse. Aromas of ripe pear and white flowers with the notes of warm nuts and cinnamon characteristic of Mauzac. Crisp and elegant citrus and stone fruit flavours meld seamlessly and lead to a finely focused finish. A perfectly refreshing aperitif. Now-2019

Domaine des Dieux, Claudia, Méthode Cap Classique, Brut, South Africa, 2010, 12%

Bottle £17.95 Case with 10% off £193.86
Code DDD4NV

Sharon Parnell, owner of Des Dieux, was the first to begin making sparkling wine in the Hemel-en-Aarde Valley, rightly building on the region's success with Chardonnay and Pinot Noir. Claudia is Sharon's elder daughter. This is from 81% Chardonnay and 19% Pinot, made in the Champagne method, given 40 months on its lees, and one of the best New World fizzes we have tried in years: no surprise this won a Gold medal in the prestigious Champagne & Sparkling Wine World Championship, and was recently described in February's Decanter as "complex MCC fizz". Now-2019

Soft mousse; and then yeasty, creamy and complex. Decent body and very persistent. So much better than a lot of cheap Champagne! Now-2019

Taittinger, Prélude, Champagne Grands Crus, Brut, NV, 12.5%

Bottle £37.50
Case (6 bottles, with 10% discount) £202.50
Code TAI3NV

The Reims based house of Taittinger was founded in 1931 when Pierre Taittinger bought the Jacques Fournieux property. Two generations on it's still family owned, with great vineyard holdings and remarkable medieval cellars. Prelude is from halves of Chardonnay and Pinot Noir, all from the best vineyards classified as Grand Crus, and given a minimum of five years ageing on the lees before release.

That extra ageing really shows in the rounded volume and the honeyed hints on the nose and palate. Now-2021

Rosés for the Spring

It's early days, but increasingly many of us like to start drinking rosé as soon as the days lengthen and there's more sunshine to enjoy. Here's an attractive offer, with good discounts, of four French rosés.

Le Petit Pont, Rosé, IGP Pays d'Oc, 2016, 12.5% [Screwcap]

Bottle £7.95 £6.95 Case £83.40
Code PEP516

Grenache and Cinsault, grown near Beziers in the Languedoc, but crafted in the Provençale style.

Château La Grave, Minervois, Rosé Expression, 2016, 13%

Bottle £9.50 £7.95 Case £95.40
Code GRV416

From halves of Syrah and Grenache grown at this well-run estate near Carcassonne.

Pale pink. An appealing gush of strawberry and raspberry; a perfect all-rounder, fruity enough to enjoy on its own but also dry enough for food. Drink this year

Château Les Combes, Bordeaux Rosé, 2016, 12.5%

Bottle £9.95 £8.50 Case £102.00
Code GRC516

This is a harmonious, dry rosé, made from 50% each of Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot, the grapes picked early for moderate alcohol and rapidly pressed to preserve the fresh fruit flavours (so this is a rosé carefully made as a rosé, not, as many from Bordeaux are, made as a sideline from wine simply bled off the tanks of red wine so the latter can be more concentrated).

Mid coral pink. All fraises des bois, juicy and bright. Drink this year

Les Quatre Tours, Coteaux d'Aix en Provence Rosé, Signature, 2016, 13%

Magnum £24.95 £21.50 Case (6 x 150cl.) £129.00
Code QUA916

The characteristic Provençale blend of Grenache, Syrah and Cabernet Sauvignon from a small co-operative just north of Aix.

Pale colour, generous fruit and restrained elegance: flavours of white peach, melon and berries, with satisfying weight and a fine dry finish. Drink this year

Brilliant Reds from the Midi

Here are reds from two estates in the south of France, both run by skilled young talent. At Pigeade Thierry Vaute makes one of the best examples of a Muscat de Beaumes de Venise; but over the years we have worked with him he has also refined and improved his reds, without increasing his prices. These two now offer very good value.

Brousses translates as bush, or brush; Mas des Brousses is, literally, the farm in the brush. Amidst the rolling, scrub-covered hills around Puéchabon, north-west of Montpellier and up against the Cevennes, lie the domaine's plots of vines. Géraldine Combes inherited the family's vines and married winemaker Xavier Peyraud, grandson of the legendary Lucien Peyraud of Domaine Tempier.

Their wines are not certified organic, but they have been farming organically for years, and they have been fixtures on our list for fourteen years.

La Pigeade, Ventoux, Les Sables, 2015, 13.5%

Bottle £10.50 Case with 10% off £113.40
Code PIG615

From 40% Grenache, 40% Carignan and 20% Syrah, grown on sandy soils and cropped low, this exemplifies the character of Ventoux: different to Côtes du Rhône in its freshness, grace and moderate alcohol level.

Attractive nose – red fruit with a peck of middle eastern spice. Bright, ripe and fruity - cherries - but also silky, perfumed and supple. Now-2020

Mas des Brousses, Chasseur des Brousses, IGP Pays d'Oc, 2016, 13.5%

Bottle £12.95 Case with 10% off £139.86
Code MAB116

From about 50% Merlot, 30% Grenache with some Syrah; and a surprisingly successful marriage of Bordeaux and the Rhône.

A supple and luxurious mouthful of brambly fruit, supple and refined, with hints of menthol and liquorice, and subtle tannins. Very aromatic and long. Gentle dinner party wine at a fair price. Now-2021
